The Power to Believe

When belief comes to our lives, it is usually spurred by someone or some event that puts us face to face with our unbelief and its consequences. People who do believe share their faith and the difference it makes in their lives. A human life experience leaves us feeling empty and maybe filled with dread and fear, and we need something that will fill the emptiness and give us the peace we need. Perhaps we long for a sense of vocation because we wander through life.

Faith in God is the mission ingredient for many. Our work as the church is to help others find the one who fills in the mission ingredient for their lives. In this sense, we are all evangelists. We are called to share what we have found with those who are still seeking.
