Context?

Having an experience requires us to make sense of the experience and to add meaning to it. We give meaning to an experience by fitting it into the totality of our life story. What has happened to us in the past, what we value, how we see the world, how we were raised, our success and our failures, all have much to do with how we interpret our experiences giving meaning to them.

The value of reading scripture in its context helps us to give the proper meaning to that reading. Every scripture passage has a historical, geographic, cultural and even a literary context. This context helps us to read scripture more accurately.

This Sunday we run upon this contextual problem in our Gospel lesson. Why does Jesus tell the Disciples to be quiet about what they have experienced?

Morning Prayer & The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day, our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom,
and the power and the glory forever.
(choral Amen)
