The Marvels of May

May is a busy month. Mother's Day, Graduations, Memorial Day, Ascension Sunday, Aldersgate Sunday and the end of the school year all happen in May. Sometimes I find May to be little different to December. In the midst of this busy month we find ourselves celebrating the spring as an end to winter and a transition to summer.

May affords us the opportunity to do some nice things for people who are going through the transitions of life. Mother's Day cards, Happy Graduation cards and cards to people who have lost a loved one in service to this nation are nice gestures. It is also a great time to celebrate with a child finishing another year of school. We all can do these little things to be thoughtful and encouraging of one another
